

Florida HIPAA Preemption Analysis

Are You Ready for HIPAA?

Federal regulations require that covered entities - providers, health plans, and clearinghouses - be in compliance by April 14, 2003. They also state that if a state law or rule is contrary to the federal standards, then the state provision could be "preempted."

How will you know whether state or federal law governs? When will you have time to review all of the Florida statutes that relate to records and the use and disclosure of health information?

Don't Worry!

This easy-to-read, easy-to-follow, indexed HIPAA Preemption Analysis reference manual has been formatted so that you can find information directly related to your field or type of facility. With this clearly worded, to-the-point analysis you will save time, money and frustration.

The manual covers provisions applicable to hospitals, physicians, other independent practitioners, post-acute care providers, and payers.

Updates will be made available as the regulations continue to unfold.
